TUESDAY, April 19.

More general and what seemed to be more genuine weakness in the stock market developed to-day than at any previous time since the recent rise in prices culminated, apparently, ten days ago. While, before the opening of business here, prices for American securities in the London market were higher than those made by the closing quotations on our Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon, London houses did not figure notably as buyers here during the day and the enthusiasm that has recently ruled on the London Stock Exchange was somewhat abated by rumors that the weight of large Russian and other loans would soon be felt in the English and Continental financial markets. In the longing transactions here prices of the leading stacks advanced a little of the continuous leading transactions here prices of the leading stacks advanced a little of the continuous large leading stacks advanced a little of the continuous large lar | loans would soon be felt in the English and Continental financial markets. In the opening transactions here prices of the leading stocks advanced a little, Amalgamated Copper showing the greatest strength, but after a period of dulness the market began to sag. The United States Steel preferred shares sold to-day minus their regular quarterly dividend of 14 control of 1000, 79 contr deceased. But this explanation was hardly sufficient, inasmuch as the holdings of the capitalist in question in Metropolitan Street Railway stock were not anywhere near as large as the quantity sold to-day. Nor was the way in which the Northern Securities litigation has now shaped itself regarded as an exhilarating market influence. In the United States Circuit Court at St. Paul the petition of the Harriman-Union Pacific interests for leave to intervene in the settlement of the court decree already pronounced directing that the Northern Securities Company be wound up, was denied. The Court held that the plan adopted by the directors of the Northern Securities Company for the distribution of the stock was not violative of the decree already formulated in the case and that an intervention was not necessary to enable the petitioners to protect any peculiar interest or equity they had. This obviously leaves the only further recourse of the petitioners a suit in equity begun either in the State or Federal courts of New Jersey, although, so far as a suit in the Federal courts is concerned, the judgment of the Circuit Court for the Minnesota district just rendered makes the presumption fair that the Union Pacific people will not be able to successfully defend their plea that the pro-rata form of distribution adopted by the directors of the company will be in violation of the Anti-Trust act. In the suit already begun by a private litigant in the New Jersey State courts, upon the same general ground as that which must be predicated by the Union Pacific interests when they bring their suit, a decision was handed down late yesterday afternoon declaring that the plaintiff's rights were not infringed upon and that he was not entitled to relief at the hands of the court. The plaintiff's standing in this case was, of course, injured by the fact that it was admitted that the Northern Securities stock owned by him was bought in the market after the pro-rata plan of liquidating the company had been announced: but in deciding the case the court did not regard this and simply considered the general ground of the justice of the prorata plan. The decision will undoubted: be appealed from, and the Union Pacific's bill when it is filed will undoubtedly have a more portentous array of counsel behind it. But the indications certainly are at present that neither in the New Jersey State courts nor in the Federal courts for the New Jersey district will there be any upset of the method of distribution officially bly made an error in judgment. Mexican Central stock was weak to-day for the same reasons which have hitherto affected the issue, namely, that it is believed that a reorganization of the Mexican Central Railway Company is near at hand and that the stock will be subject to a large assessment. Further, there was a greater willingness to-day among speculators both for the rise and for the decline to consider as serious the news printed in yesterday's newspapers pointing to a falling off in the grain traffic and in the transportation of general merchandise over the railways in the West, and to more pronounced evidences than have yet been noticed of diminishing business west of the Alleghany Mountains. Sterling exchange to-day was very strong, pointing plainly to a resumption of gold exports; but, on the other hand, the local banks have gained in their transactions with the Sub-Treasury since Friday $3,152,000 and the Sub-Treasury paid out to-day nearly $3,000,000 more on account of Japanese yen deposited at San Francisco. It is understood that the banks dealings with the interior of the country, so that it seems evident that the coming proposed. The speculators, therefore, who have bought Union Pacific stock on the idea that the Union Pacific Company would by the dissolution of the Northern Securities Company be placed in control of the Northern Pacific and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad companies have proba-were of a much more favora ble character, both as regards the amount of business done and the movement of prices. The improvement was felt chiefly in the railroad shares, that is to ay. in Nothern Securities and shares, that is to ay. in Nothern Securities and the movement of prices. The leadership of the market, which for several weeks has been held by Greene Consolidated Copper, was to-day usurped by Northern Securities, the number of its shares dealt in exceeding by over 3,000 the stock transactions of the company first named. The activity of Northern Securities was, of course, directly due to the denial by the United States Circuit Court at St. Paul of the right of the Union Pacific interests to intervene in the liquidation of the railroad merger, news of price of 1974 yesterday it opened to-day at 1884, advanced to 98½ and finally declined to its epening price.
